The 1961 European Cup final was held at the Wankdorf

Stadium, Bern on 31 May 1961, and was contested by💸 Portuguese side Ben fica against Spanish side Barcelona. This was the first final not to include Rea l Madrid, who had won💸 the previous five finals. Benfica lifted the trop hy for the first time, beating Barcelona 3 2. Benfica midfielder Mario Coluna broke his💸 nose in the eighth m inute of the match; not wanting to risk further damage, when Domiciano Cavé m put over a💸 cross in the 55th minute, Coluna hung back outside the pen alty area. The ball was cleared directly to him and💸 he volleyed it home for Benfica's third goal of the match.[2] Five-time defending champions Real Madrid were knocked out in theԁ

84; first round by Barcelona, their bitter domestic rivals. After defeating Czec hoslovak champions Hradec Králové in the quarter-finals, Barcelona ini tially drew💸 2 2 on aggregate with West German champions Hamburger SV in the semi-finals. Since this was before UEFA competitions began using💸 t he away goals rule, in order to determine who would advance to the final, a repl ay was scheduled to be💸 played at a neutral site on 3 May. Barça wo uld qualify for the final by winning the replay 1 0 at💸 the King Baudoui n Stadium in Brussels, with Evaristo scoring the decisive goal.[3]
