Fighting in Ukraine has entered its darkest phase since the start of the war in February 2022. The conflict has caused the deaths of thousands of people, including many children. The war has also led to a massive displacement of people, with millions of Ukrainians fleeing their homes. The international community has responded with various measures, including sanctions against Russia and the provision of humanitarian aid to Ukraine. The war is expected to continue for some time, and the international community is urged to continue its efforts to bring about a peaceful resolution.
